Message from the Managing Director

Thank you for taking the time to read this short overview into the story of Quantum so far, and hopefully benefit from further knowledge of some of the unique services we pride ourselves on at Quantum Electrical Distribution.

Quantum was born from the vision of a team of highly qualified and experienced people from within the electrical wholesaler industry, who set out to create an electrical wholesaler with the primary goal to offer the highest levels of service to our customers using the combined 100 years of experience and knowledge gained from within the industry.

With strengths from within Aviation, Renewable Energy, Industrial, Commercial, Residential, and Telecommunication sectors, we feel confident in exceeding our customer expectations on every occasion.

During my 25 years in the Electrical Wholesale industry, It's always been my personal goal to provide something further and exceed the expectations of our market. As part of this strategy, Quantum understands it must play its part in contributing wherever possible in the fight against climate change, with our goal being to be completely carbon neutral by 2030. This began in 2020 with us launching our new fleet of Rapid Response Electric Delivery vehicles and us committing to plant a tree for every sale.

Quantum's strategy is simple, maintain and develop that impeccable service from day one. Quantum will always go the extra mile, ensuring that whilst we build on our relationships and experience, we nurture what's important. Looking after our team, taking care of our customers, working closely with our key manufacturers, and continue to express the Quantum passion through our incredible team who fuel our business which makes us stand out from our competitors.

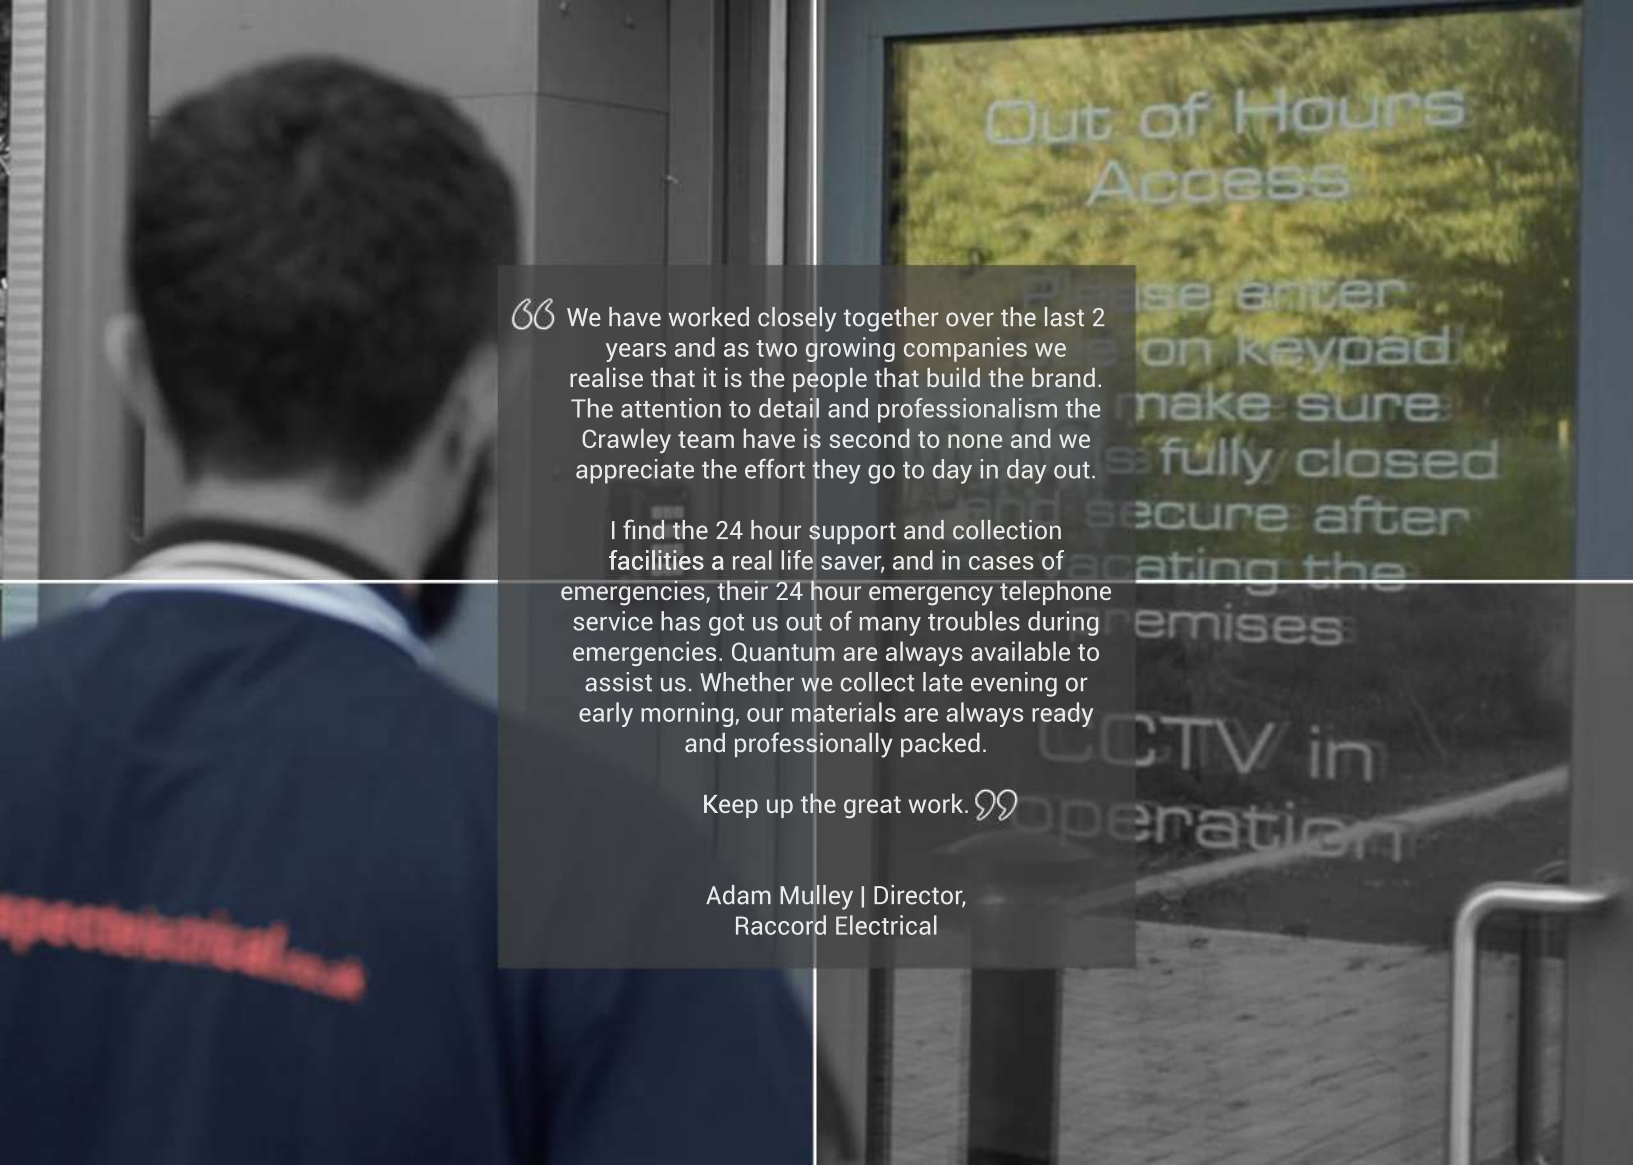

On the behalf of Quantum and the team, we welcome you to the family.

With kindest regards,

Tony Jenner.

Founder & Managing Director

BB We have worked closely together over the last 2 years and as two growing companies we realise that it is the people that build the brand. The attention to detail and professionalism the Crawley team have is second to none and we appreciate the effort they go to day in day out.

I find the 24 hour support and collection facilities a real life saver, and in cases of emergencies, their 24 hour emergency telephone service has got us out of many troubles during emergencies. Quantum are always available to assist us. Whether we collect late evening or early morning, our materials are always ready and professionally packed.

Keep up the great work. DD

24/7 Support & Collections

*There when you need us. Night and day

24 Hour emergency line

In an emergency, customers look to you to save the day. Like many electricians offering around the clock support/call outs, Quantum offers a 24/7 emergency support service for all our clients. Just phone our emergency line and get through to a member of our team day or night.

Out of hours collection point

Simply contact us, and we will ensure your order is packed, ready and waiting in our secure collection point. You'll receive a unique secure code to access the collection point whenever you like, day or night.

Contact your local branch for support: Crawley: 01293 213 007 Chichester: 01243 681 007

The background of the slide is a photograph of the London Eye, a large Ferris wheel, seen from a low angle across a river. In the foreground, a white delivery van with 'QUANTUM' branding is driving on a bridge. The van has 'CRANLEY BRANCH' and '24 HOUR AIRSIDE VEHICLE' written on its side, along with a phone number and website. The sky is overcast, and the overall tone is professional and industrial.

Quantum are always my 'go to' wholesaler!
Not only with my current company, but also with previous companies too.
The team are always willing to go above and beyond to ensure our order arrives on time, so we can get the job done. We use their service into London everyday and get our material as early as 6.30am! I don't know anyone else who can provide such a consistent service, add to that I couldn't ask for a nicer more helpful group of girls and guys.

Great pricing and great service, couldn't ask for any more.

Fully recommend Quantum. 99

The advantage of partnering with a local wholesaler is the personal service. At Quantum we believe in catering directly for your business needs. We can only do this by working closely with our clients to form and nurture a strong working relationship.

To allow Quantum to compete on the national stage, whilst maintaining the service levels we're famous for, we proudly became a member of The AWEBB buying group in January 2021. The AWEBB Group, connects over 230 independent wholesalers, with a combined buying power of £300M each year. This allows us to compete at every level, making Quantum capable and competitive, whilst improving lead times.

Every year AWEBB empowers five thousand electricians to increase their outreach.

An account with Quantum gives you full access to every branch location in the AWEBB network. This allows us to offer our customer-first approach, whilst maintaining nationwide coverage through our AWEBB partners. Using your Quantum credit account facility, purely walk into or telephone any AWEBB (ElectraCentre) branch location and receive the same high service levels as you would expect from Quantum, whilst benefiting from all your agreed prices and terms from your local Quantum branch.

Quantum Electrical Distribution have provided an excellent service to us at Lightning Safety Systems for a number of years. We always find the team can never do enough to help, they respond quickly and effectively and their delivery service is first class, particularly the rapid response which is dispatched to us at record speed! They have supplied us with a lot of specific fire alarm product for a very large London based customer over a reasonable period of time whereby they have ensured that they have consistent availability of product held in stock, timely deliveries, excellent communication and ultimately accurate invoicing and all of this is always arranged and conducted in a friendly and efficient manner. First class service levels at all times.

Lightning Safety Systems

Rapid Response Service

Delivery in just 1 hour!
Without the carbon footprint

Welcomed by contractors of all sizes.
Rapid Response is perfect for short notice emergencies.

It's frustrating when you can't finish the job. It might be the end of a long day, a project alteration, or a sudden fault. Whatever is holding you up, tomorrow isn't good enough. Quantum is here to help.

We're proud to introduce our Rapid Response Service. Delivering to local people in their time of need, Quantum's all electric fleet is charged and ready to dispatch at a moment's notice.

Not only is our electric fleet environmentally friendly, but great for response times. There's even reduced chance of breakdown and no fuel stops. When you need materials at short notice, just phone your local Quantum branch and request rapid delivery. We'll send out your order, no matter how small, and aim to have you back on track within the hour.

“ We have been working closely with Quantum for over 2 years now and the service we have received is excellent. We work closely with everyone at the branch as they are very knowledgeable and always support us with enquiries. The team at Quantum are always very responsive, efficient and are always willing to help. Quantum have excelled with their Airside Service, offering us deliveries 3-4 times each day which has assisted us with our project deadlines.

They provide an excellent service, and their pricing is always competitive.

5 stars from us! ”

Airside Delivery

When your day flies, let Quantum take up some of the turbulence

Research shows that the largest cost to airside contractors is the loss of workhours leaving site for materials. Did you know, the round trip from Gatwick Airport via security, to the local wholesaler takes an average of 68 minutes? Over the working week, a project can significantly suffer...

Airside

We will deliver your materials airside, direct to site, via our specially trained airside personnel.

Quantum is proud to have an independent Airside License, allowing our vehicles and staff airside at London Gatwick. Our specialist team is also available to meet you on site to consult and provide support on any project. Quantum has airside passes and take full responsibility of the entire process. No hassle, no wasted hours.

BB Thank you for giving me the opportunity to express my thoughts and feeling for Quantum Electrical.

I have been working closely with Quantum for over three years now and the service I receive is exceptional. I work closely with the Branch Manager and the sales staff who have a wealth of knowledge and are always there to support me with any enquires I have.

The timed delivery service is extremely useful, and we use this service on a regular basis. Quantum have helped to manage the delivery logistics where we have had specific site requirements. This has been a brilliant service every time!

Pricing is always competitive and the team are always willing to go the extra mile to ensure we get the service and materials we need.

Great Service and Great Staff. Keep it up

Central Stores

£2 million worth of stock at your fingertips

Our Central Distribution Centre improves stock availability while offering next day delivery.

Quantum's Central Distribution Centre helps prevent shortages and keeps our clients' on schedule. Our Central Distribution Centre carries over 2-million pounds of stock across 1400 product lines from 70 suppliers. Orders placed before 16:00 qualify for next day delivery. This gives us the confidence to supply each and every project.

An added benefit of Quantum's Central Distribution Centre is our project call-off facility. Especially useful for large projects that require a bulk of materials, call-off allows you to reserve your order in advance. It will be held in our warehouse until it's required, then delivered to site.

BB Intersafe have been working closely with Quantum over the past 2 years.

We have contracted major projects through Quantum via some of their well-known key suppliers producing well manufactured items.

We also ask the Quantum team for “weird and wonderful” products that not a lot of places can get hold of, but they can always help support us with these enquires. Quotes come back efficiently and their service levels are very high. They are competitive on pricing, and I always feel well looked after.

Quantum hold good values, and I think their progress so far in becoming carbon neutral compliments our future plans as both businesses grow together. It's nice to support a business that wants to make a difference and lower their own carbon footprint.

I look forward to what the future holds with Intersafe and Quantum moving forward! DD

Carbon Neutral by 2030

At Quantum we're passionate about building a better future, that's why we're contributing wherever possible to the fight against climate change. Introducing Quantum's sustainability programme, our green initiatives.

Going Green, One Van at a Time

As part of our dedication to becoming carbon neutral, we're converting to an all-EV delivery fleet. In 2020 we launched, with plans to be exclusively electric by 2030.

One Tree Planted for Every Purchase

We've partnered with Ecologi to transform the climate crisis... One tree at a time. Our commitment is to plant a tree for every sale, funded by donations from our profits. Restoring forests helps to replenish biodiversity and preserve endangered species. As well as helping offset the carbon footprint associated with every order.

We'll make sure you're kept up to date every month with your impact.

BB The support from the Quantum team is greatly appreciated, from the sales team to the delivery drivers. Being in the industry for over 55 years now we have used a fair few electrical wholesalers & Quantum are definitely one we would recommend to anyone.

I've started using HALO on my installs and find the products to be high quality and easy to install. The aftersales service has been great too. Most importantly the stocks are great and they even offer DALI and emergency options.

All round 5 stars from me.

Yours sincerely. 99

EDENRED Rewards

Rewards
Program

Rewards and rebates, direct to your wallet

Every time you spend with Quantum you can earn rebates back on your own personal Mastercard. By Signing up to our EDENRED rewards plan, you get cashback for every purchase. Use your EDENRED card however you like, anywhere that displays the Mastercard symbol. Reward yourself with a night out, a well-deserved holiday, or even just putting it towards the weekly grocery shop!

How it works:

You receive a prepaid Mastercard personalised with your name. All rewards earned will be credited to your card. Each rebate card is uploaded monthly following payment of the prior month. Your card comes with a secure chip and pin, allowing you to spend up-to the balance of the card. All transactions are authorised at the point of sale and additional services including balance update can be found using the EDENRED App. For more info, phone your Quantum representative.

*Minimum spend applies to qualify for EDENRED rewards.
Contact your local Quantum representative for more info.

EDENRED Rewards gives you control over your rebate.

American Express

Build reward points. Extend payment settlement periods

Our proud partnership with American Express allows Quantum to offer all the benefits of an AMEX card directly to our customers. Signing up an AMEX card with Quantum provides you with additional credit days, helps manage cash flow, and earns you rewards.

Redeem your points, in exchange for airmiles, hotel stays, or cash deducted from your balance owed.

When you qualify for an AMEX card with Quantum, we add you to our customer portal. When you get to the end of your credit period with us, you can use your AMEX card to pay off your balance, earning you points. Simply give authorisation for Quantum to draw down the balance. From there you will receive up to 55 additional credit days to pay off your balance with American Express.

Redeeming your points couldn't be easier. They can be exchanged for airmiles, hotel stays, or cash deducted from your balance owed. For more info, phone your Quantum representative.

BB I would highly recommend Quantum Electrical to any contractor for the service, reliability and well experienced team.

Nothing is too much for Quantum to look into for me. Quotes are back promptly, this helps me when quoting for jobs.

I've been out on cooperate days with the team and built a great relationship with everyone at Quantum. It's nice to be invited out and valued as a client, Quantum are great at this!

I feel I get a personal experience every time and look forward to what the future holds between OEC Electrical and Quantum. QQ
